2016 Net Rule (Volleyball Canada, 2016)

The following net rule will be implemented for the 2018 club volleyball season.

Contact with the Net:

- Contact with the net by a player between the antennae, during the action of playing the ball, is a fault. The action of playing the ball includes, but is not limited to, take off, contact (or attempt) and landing.

Player's Faults at the Net:

- A player interferes with play by:
 - Touching the net between the antennae or touching the antenna itself during the action of playing the ball.
 - Using the net between the antennae as a support or stabilizing aid.
 - Creating an unfair advantage over the opponent by touching the net.
 - Making actions which hinder an opponent's legitimate attempt to play the ball.

Players close to the ball as it is played, or who are trying to play it, are considered to be in the action of playing the ball, even if no contact is made with the ball. However, touching the net outside the antenna is not to be considered a fault (except rule 9.1.3).
